Two years are I began to suffer with a severe and constant pain in my kidneys, which was soon followed by violent attacks, averaging about two a week causing excrueiating agony, from which I was requently refleved by the discharge of stone of from four to six grains in weight; at other times by the passage of smaller stone, and sometimes by und in considerable quantities.

Joseph result of this state of things I was rethe result of this state of things I was re and as the result of this state of things 4 was re-duced to such a condition that my medical advisers tool me frankly that I had nothing to hope from emedies; that my condition was a hopeless one and I looked to death alone for a termination of a descrable existence. Mr. J. L. Lyons, a druggist of miscrable existence. Mr. J. L. Lyons, a druggist of New Orleans, about six months ago advised me to irr the luffile Lithia Wafer, Spring No. 2. which I did. About a week after I commenced the use of it had an attack of less than usual severity, in which I passed two small stones—one of which I placed in a tumbler of the water, and in about three hours found it dissolved to fine powder. That gave me confidence, and I determined to persecte in its use. I have had no attack whatever once, nor has there been any discharge of stone or ince, nor has there been any discharge of stone or

A Reminiscence of a Trip in the Air

Some Years Ago. CHICAGO, ILL., October 29 .- The Times publishes an account of one James Hale of a balloon ascension, which he made a good many years ago with Professor H. J. Kane riam." Y., and which he thinks mounted by appropriate designs. closely resembles the recent ascent of Wise PUTT'S HAIR DYE.-GRAY HAIR or and Burr, except that the relator escaped floated over Lake Ontario, night came on, and the balloon began to sink. All the ballast was thrown out, but to no purpose. They nearly struck the mast of a passing schooner, and it appeared every moment as though they would drop into the waves. Finally Kane said, "One of us can get to Canada, the other must feed dish. I've got a family and I'm going to Canada." Whipping out a knife be leaped into the rigging and cut the basket loose. Hale dropped into the middle of the lake. He was a good swimmer, and got upon the basket, and next day was picked up by the steamer Corinthian, bound for Rochester. Kane never was heard from. Hale calls attention to the similarity in the Donaldson case. The body of Grimwood was found on the shore. In the case of Wise, the body of Burr was found on the shore. In the case of Kane, the passenger who became merely a matter of ballast when the question was whether the balloon must swamp or rise, was very fortunate in being dropped in frequented waters, and in the regular track of a steamer. In the cases of Donaldson, Wise, and Kane, another similar feature is found. Neither the acronaut nor his balloon was ever afterward heard from, and probably never will be.

A KNOTTY QUESTION TO SETTLE .- Isaac Smith lives in a house in Connecticut which is built on the boundary line between Monroe and Trumbull townships. The line runs diagonally, so that when in bed his head is in Trumbull while most of his body is in Monroe. At the last election his right to vote in Monroe was challenged, but afterwards admitted by the judges, who were, like himself, Republicans. It is expected that his vote will be again challenged at the approaching election, and the people of Monroe are debating the question as to his right. He could easily settle the question by turning his bed around so that he could do all his sleeping in Monroe; but he does not feel inclined to make any LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of change, contending that as his kitchen and Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations parlor, where he spends most of his time, are located in Monroe, there is no ground kinson, Henry Charter, B. WOOING WITH WALNUT FURNITURE.-A handsome black-walnut chamber set was exhibited by a Paterson furniture-dealer at the Hohokus (N. J.) Fair. It was much admired, and in a group of admirers were a young man and the young woman he had to the Fair. He had been courting her for a long time, but he had never succeeded in getting his courage up to the point of asking her to be his. While admiring the walnut set he inquired, doubtless without any ulterior motive, "How would you like such a set as that?" The young woman promptly answered that she would be almost willing to be married if she could begin housekeeping with such furniture. "I will buy it if you will marry me," the young man said, with the air of one who had found a long-sought opportunity. The answer was decisive and business-like: "You cannot close the bargain any too soon." The wedding invitations are already sent out.
